

DATASHEET

Dsub Jack, IDC contacts flat version,E-DFF 15 LPIII/Z

General data

The 15-pin D-Sub socket in flat design from EFB-Elektronik is designed for a reliable insulation terminal connection. With a 180° connection angle and female contact design, it is suitable for compact connectors with a flat cable in technical applications.

- 15-pin D-sub socket in flat design
- 180° design with insulation clamp for conductor connection
- Female contact design for suitable connectors

The temperature range of -25 to 85 °C makes the bushing suitable for applications with increased environmental requirements. The EDFF 15 LPIII/Z version supports a stable signal connection for conductor cross-sections from 28AWG to 26AWG and for applications where a compact and durable interface is required.
