DATASHEET

Support element for wall housing depth 800mm, RAL 9005, set of 2

General data

The mounting bracket element from EFB-Elektronik is designed as a support element for deep wall enclosures of the Basic wall enclosure series. The steel version with a black finish and RAL 9005 supports robust and uniform integration into existing cabinet environments. With a width of 600 mm and a height of 402 mm, there is a clearly defined format for installation.

• Mounting bracket as an accessory for wall-mounted enclosures Basic – Complements the cabinet series with a stable support element for deep installation situations.
• Steel construction in black with RAL 9005 – Ensures a resilient design and a visually restrained integration.
• Dimensions 600 mm wide and 402 mm high – Support a precise assignment in the housing concept.

In the technical design, the focus is on functional function. The version is classified as a different variant and combines steel with the Basic wall enclosure cabinet series. This creates an accessory component that is designed for stable mechanical integration and clear system assignment.
